"Where shall I put this paper so as to be sure of seeing it to-morrow?" inquired. Mary Jane of her brother Charles. "On the looking-glass," was her brother's reply.

Young ladies are generally honest but they will hook dresses.

Why don't your father take a paper, said a man to a little boy whom he caught pilfering his paper from his door step. Cos he sends me to take it, answered the little urchin.

A beggar woman, coming into a house where Nellie was sitting alone, asked for charity. "Charity," said Nellie, 'I guess we're most out."

The first odd fellow—Adam.

The surest way to lose your health is to drink to other people's.

Extract of a letter from St Croix.

* * * We had wandered for many hours through tangled forests of tropical shrubs and trees, some of them emitting a most delicious and invigorating odor, when we suddenly came upon a large and well cultivated plantation, in the center of which were several buildings. Entering these we found them to be the press houses, stills, &c., where the sugar cane is crushed for the manufacture of St. Croix rum. Over 100 Coolies were at work, and the smell from the fermenting vats was very exhilarating and pleasant. We were shown through the entire establishment, and learned that all the rum here produced was shipped to Messrs. P H Drake & Co., New York, to be made into their celebrated Plantation Bitters. The peculiar good effects of this rum—which is the purest and best in the world—are well known. Not a single case of Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague Consumption or any such disease can be found on the island, [except of invalids come here for their health, and they are almost always cured]. Combined with Calisaya Bark, Cascarilla, and other important ingredients, this rum becomes plantation bitters; and surely no finer tonic and general family remedy was ever seen. The combination of these bitters was first discovered here many years ago, and all the natives swear by Plantation Bitters, and say there is nothing like it. Judging by the robust health of the witnesses, I am certain their testimony is true. R S

The Eastern Road—Important Proposition.

While the Toledo railroad law was being enacted by the legislature, important steps were being taken towards the construction of the long talked of broadgauge extension to Toledo, which, under the present condition of things, seems to be more than probable.

The situation, as we understad it, is briefly this: Entirely responsible parties have made the definite proposition that with $250,000 of stock subscription and the right of way assured, they will guarantee the construction of the Toledo & Atlantic road, ready for use by the 28th of February next. Well informed citizens entertain no doubt of the good faith of this proposition nor of the responsibility of the parties making it. By compliance with such conditions, Toledo will be enabled to place the proposed road where it will best answer her ends. Where that would be, is not doubtful in our mind. The route that with the shortest practicable line would give us the best eastern connection and good coal, irrespective of other considerations, would, in our judgment, be the one most clearly dictated by the wants of Toledo; and the eastern end of that line would be at Wadsworth, Seville or West Salem, on the Atlantic & Great Western, to be extended to Massillon on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago, as it readily would be; with an ultimate view to a connection through New Philadelphia with the Pan Handle road at Urichsville. To this end, arrangements should be made with the several interested roads at both ends of the proposed route, whereby three rails should be supplied for the joint accommodation of all. There seems to be no obstacle to such a plan. Both the Erie and Pittsburgh & Ft. Wayne roads seek a Toledo connection, and they would be accommodated in this way. Their trade would not be so far diverse, as necessarily to interpose serious difficulty in the way of competition By co-operation in the enterprise, the expense, of course would be proportionately less. Toledo, at least should seek such an arrangement, and if possible secure it. It would seem that the means now at her command and available on the proposed line would be found abundant for this purpose.

Such a road once built, Toledo would be secured in the amplest facilities for Eastern traffic and the most abundant supply of as good coal as the country produces. From the point of crossing the Atlantic & Great Western to Urichsville, the new road would pass through an almost uninterrupted bed of coal and iron ore not to be excelled elsewhere. The local traffic of such a road, independent of its vast through business, would be immense. It would command almost the entire Michigan and Canada trade with southeastern Ohio, Pensylvania, etc, which in the exchange of lumber, coal, iron, glass, etc., would be very heavy.

One thing, it seems to us, Toledo should determine at the outset, viz: To secure to herself, not the road that will cost her the least, but the one, at whatever necessary cost within her means, that will best meet her wants. What are a few thousand dollars, more or less, compared with the great and permanent interests to be affected by the location of the proposed road?

P. S. Since the above was in type an informal meeting of prominent citizens has been held to consider this subject, resulting in the appointment of a committee of five who are to confer with representatives of the parties making the above propositon, and present to the city council such recommendations as the case may suggest.—Toledo Commercial.

A Great Work from a Small Beginning.

Some months ago three drinking men met one evening in the city of Covington, Ky. They had all been respectable and well to-do citizens, but their appetite for intoxicating drink had got the mastery of them to such an extent that their time was spent, mainly, in raising funds to purchase stimulants. Like sensible and honest men they acknowledged their fault to each other, and after making confession, the next thing was work meet for repentance. Like the prodigal, they resolved to return back to the paths of virtue, and thereupon they drew up a declaration, to which each attached his name, that henceforth, they should drink no more intoxicating drinks. An immediate change was perceptible in their daily lives, and their old drinking associates could not but notice the good effects of the cold water cure in their improved appearance.

In the State of Bourbon whisky (Ky.) to be a temperance man is almost as much disgrace as it once was to be an abolitionist, and our three reformers certainly had a strong pressure to bear up under. This little leaven in the city of Covington was bound to have its influence. The three reformers went to work among their friends, a weekly meeting was organized, and the final result was a great revival. Public lectures were given on the subject of temperance, and hundreds flocked to hear this strange doctrine proclaimed in Kentucky. The reform club of only three persons soon was able to count its membership by the hundreds, and include among its members some of the most prominent citizens. Its influence was felt in the adjoining cities of Newport and Cincinnati, till now such an interest is awakened on this question as we trust will result in the salvation of hundreds from a drunkard's doom.—Temple Visitor.

Plain Words.

To those who make and sell alcohol for drink, the temperance party have some plain and true words to say. We deem it the most honorable on our part, and the most proper in our dealing with you, to say just what your crimes are against the people, and to tell you precisely what we intend to do, to put an end to your crimes. By your business you have destroyed as many husbands, fathers, sons, brothers, in the generations that are past, as would seem needful to prove your true character, even to the most unbelieving. You have taken the money from the husband and father, and in exchange for that, have given him death. You have taken the bread from the mouths of hungry wives and children, and what should have added to their comfort and happiness, you have put in your own pocket without giving anything of value in return. You have robbed them of clothing that should have shielded them from cold and nakedness. You appropriate the money you obtain from the father given you for drink; to build your own mansions, to clothe and feed yourselves and families, while the families of your victims, through your robbery of the husband and father, are compelled to find shelter in hovels. Nearly every crime against society perpetrated in the land, is committed by those who have received their instruction and qualification from your business. If a pauper is to be fed or a hospital provided, it is almost always for those who have thus been made needy by you. You lay a burden upon the industry of the country by taxation greater than all other causes combined.

You pretend to be honest in the business you pursue, and have a professed friendship for others, but it is the same in kind the wolf has for the lamb. You use art persuasion and smiles to lure men to your places of resort, and under the guise of friendship for them, but really with the intention of obtaining their money, have gradually drawn from them their substance, while at the same time dealing death, well knowing it to be such, until exhausted in purse and ruined in health and character, you thrust them violently from your premises as useless to you. Purity, integrity, sobriety, honesty, industry and prosperity, or anything kindred thereto, never went from your doors, for you have nothing of these to bestow; but impurity, deception fraud, drunkenness, dishonesty, idleness, poverty, crime, and vice of every description, is the natural product of your business. Your record is before all the world, and all mankind are witness of all we may say that it is true. A more villainous system of wrong done to society than the one you mantain and pursue, does not exist upon the face of the earth, and blacker crimes do not mark the history of another class of criminals than those that mark every man, of whatever name or standing in community, who is engaged in this business of gathering his livelihood and wealth by the making and selling of alcohol for drink, knowing that it will destroy his neighbor. The temperance party insist and demand that you shall stop this. You may suppose that the mass of the people will remain indifferent to the wrong thus done them, as they heretofore have been. But we say to you that a storm of indignation is gathering against you in the minds of the people, which we shall endeavor to increase and concentrate till the combined force shall sweep this whole system out of existence, and compel you to live by honest industry as all men ought, or else shut you up in the felon's cell, where your crimes demand you should be put, that our land may be free from the curse of your business and presence. Our laws punish men for stealing horses severely; they ought to punish for killing men with alcohol with ten times the severity. We send men to prison for years who counterfeit our money; we say send them for more years for making widows and orphans. Our duty to our country summons us to the ballot box on this question, and this agency, in connection with moral suasion, the temperance party will vigorously use for the destruction of so vile a system as this has proven to be, and as the land now rejoices in its deliverance from the curse of slavery, so shall it rejoice in deliverance from the curse of whisky.—Temperance Era.

A Brave and Noble Boy.

The New York Sun gives a brief chapter on the Heroism in Humble Life, and appends the following touching illustration.

Perhaps the finest of these modern instances occurred two weeks ago on board an English Steamer. A little ragged boy, aged about nine years, was discovered on the fourth day of the outward voyage from Liverpool to New York, and carried before the first mate, whose duty was to deal with such cases. When questioned as to the object of his being stowed away, and who had brought him on board, the boy, who had a beautiful, sunny face, and eyes that looked like the very mirrors of truth, replied that his step-father did it, because he could not afford to keep him, nor to pay his passage out to Halifax where he had an aunt who was well off, and to whose house he was going. The mate did not believe the story, in spite of the winning face and truthful accents of the boy. He had seen too much of stow-aways to be easily deceived by them, he said; and it was his firm conviction that the boy had been brought on board, and provided with food by the sailors. The little fellow was very roughly handled in consequence Day by day he was questioned and requestioned, but always with the same result. He did not know a sailor on board, and his father alone had secreted him and gave him the food which he ate.

At last the mate, wearied by the boy's persistence in the same story, and perhaps, a little anxious to inculpate the sailors, seized him one day by the collar, and dragging him to the fore, told him that unless he confessed the truth in ten minutes from that time he would hang him on the yard arm. He then made him sit down under it on the deck. All around him were the passengers and sailors of the midday watch, and in front of him stood the inexorable mate, with his chronometer in his hand, and and the other officers of the ship by his side. It was the finest sight, said our informant, that we ever beheld, to see the pale, proud, sorrowful face of that noble boy—his head erect, his beautiful eyes bright through the tears that suffused them. When eight minutes had fled, the mate told him he had but two minutes to live, and advised him to speak the truth and save his life, but he replied with the utmost simplicity and sincerity, by asking the mate if he might pray.

The mate said nothing, but nodded his head, and turned as pale as a ghost, and shook with trembling like a reed with the wind. And there, all eyes turned upon him, this brave and noble little fellow, this poor waif whom society owned not, and whose own step-father could not care for him, —there he knelt with clasped hands and eyes uplifted to heaven, while he repeated audibly the Lord's prayer, and prayed the dear Lord Jesus to take him to heaven.

Our informant adds that there then occurred a scene as of Pentecost. Sobs broke from strong, hard hearts, as the mate sprang forward to the boy and clasped him to his bosom, and kissed him and blessed him, and told him how sincerely glad he was that he had been brave enough to face death and be willing to sacrifice his own life for the truth of his own word.

Our Jim came to us the other day, says the Clipper, and handed us a slip of paper, saying: 'Boss, here's a mity nice little moril novel for the paper, vich a young woman of my acquaintance guv me to hand to you.' We looked at it with the critic's eye. Our first thought was to toss it aside, but a second reflection altered us. The thing was so short that its publication was a small matter, and it would serve to show the nonsense with which an editor is annoyed. In short, we concluded to give it to our readers, and here it is:

'They grouped together on the utmost point of the pinnacle, by the sad sea waves.

He strained her to his manly breast, nearest his throbbing heart. He kissed her, and kissed her.

'And his small but radiant moustache glimmered proudly upon her beautious lips.

'Suddenly she started. An exclamation of intense melancholy overcame her, like a summer cloud, and she passed her snowy little hand over her rosy mouth.

'What is it?' he asked, tenderly.

'She burst into appropriate tears, before answering, between sobs:

'Oh, William! William! you must forgive me, dearest; but after what you have just been doing to me I really can't help feeling a little down in the mouth.'

Definition of Character.

Fine Fellow—The man who advertises in your paper, the man who never refuses to lend you money, and the fellow who is courting your sister.

Gentle People—The yong lady who lets her mother do all the ironing for fear of spoiling her hands, the young gentleman who is ashamed to be seen walking with his father, and the young lady who wears thin shoes on a rainy day.

Industrious People—The young lady who reads romances in bed, the friend who is always engaged when you call, and the correspondent who can not find time to answer your letter.

Timid People—A lover about to pop the question, a man who does not like to be shot at, and a steamboat company with a case of cholera.

Dignified Men—A midshipman on a quarter deck, and a school committee on examining day.

Nnhappy People—Old bachelors and old maids.

Humble Persons—The husband who does his wife's churning, the wife who blacks her husband's boots, and the man who thinks you do him to much honor.

Mean People—The man who kicks people when they are down, and the subscriber who refuses to pay for his paper.

Sensible People—You and I.

There is now in the treasury of the United States $105,000,000 of coin, of which $92.000.000 is the property of government. At the present rate of receipts the custom duties yield about $68,000,000 per annum, more than the interest on the public debt, and the expenses of the diplomatic and consular service. The gold in the treasury, therefore, accumulates at the rate of $1 300 000 per week, when no sales are made.

Republican Union Convention.

The republicans of Stark county will meet at Canton, on Saturday, June 12th, next, at the Auditor's office, to select delegates for the state convention to be held on the 23d of June following.

At the same time and place the republican central committee are requested to meet for the purpose of fixing the time of holding the county primary election.

By order of Committee,

WM. MCKINLEY, JR., Chn.

Our Medina county neighbors are waking up to the necessity of the railroad project, now agitated quite actively at Toledo, which is proposed to make a connection between that city and this region of country. The question is one of mutual importance to all concerned, and nothing now seems more needed than a continuous agitation of the proposed improvement to bring about active measures which will ultimate in its early commencement and rapid completion. The advantages which such a route will confer have long been familiar to those who have looked at the subject in a practical way; and now that certain obstacles which heretofore have interposed to prevent the work are dissipated, there seems to be nothing in the way, of sufficient magnitude, to have this greatly desired connection with the north-west. The means are abundant to effect it, and all that is required is unity of action. See an article on the first page, on this point, from the Toledo Commercial.

SPIRITUAL PHOTOGRAPHS. — Some weeks ago certain parties had a man by the name of Mumler of the city of New York, arrested for practicing a fraud upon the public in charging him with making photographs by tricks or cunning, and passing them off as spirit impressions. During the progress of the trial much interest was manifested, the daily papers filling long columns with testimony for and against the accused. Even the pictorial papers had their share of fun in printing grotesque pictures of ghostly visions, having for their object the idea of bringing spiritualism into contempt. After several days' effort before the judge by astute lawyers on both sides, and the hearing of volumes of testimony from photographers, Judge Dowling was obliged to let the accused go, as the prosecution failed to establish their charges.

What is the matter with Bro. Allen of the Steubenville Gazette? Has some bloody radical punched his head, or has any negro wiped his hand after shaking that of Barbary A.? Mecker than Moses, holier than Paul, and cuter than Solomon, some graceless radical has been poking his finger at this model democrat, and the way he lets drive at them all is fearful and wonderful to contemplate. Two weeks ago we briefly alluded to the mobbing of the Spiritualist paper at Cleveland, whereupon bro. Allen lets loose in the following highly Christian style; because he claims to be a model of devoutness:

But with what a poor grace does such an article as the above come from a radical editor—like the editor of the Massillon Independent—who either by inue..do or openly, approved of the mobbing of the Stark County Democrat during the rebellion. From one to a dozen democratic printing offices in every northern state in the union, were mobbed or attempted to be mobbed by radicals and radical influence, from April, 1861, to May, 1865; and yet not one radical editor, the editor of the Massillon Independent included, had the manhood at that time to come out openly and denounce the mobbing of democratic printing offices. But now this Massillon man is very bold about denouncing mobs. It takes a considerable amount of hypocricy to edit a radical paper, and we know of no one that has it in a greater degree than the editor of the Independent.

The foregoing speaks for itself. Bro Allen is entitled to a little notice for this effort—this is ours.

What has been done by the National Life.

It is too late to talk of the importance of insuring one's life for the benefit of those dependant upon him. What was, some years ago, accounted by many scrupulous and doubting ones as a "tempting of Providence" has become the recognized duty, as surely due to a man's family as the daily labor for bread, clothes, and a home. The number of new insurance companies which are yearly started upon their course prove the extent of the popular feeling in favor of this beneficent provision. The two plans upon which insurance is offered—the stock and the mutual—are industriously presented by respective adherents, and the merits of both fully discussed.

A significant indication of the popular choice is found in the great success of the National Life Insurance Company of America, which began business in August last, and has, since that time, been extending its agencies throughout the country, as well as in the Dominion of Canada. Upon the first of May, only nine months after its beginning work, the company had issued five thousand policies—a success unprecedented in the history of insurance. This is a purely stock company, for which there is this to say; that while it does not always make as glowing promises to the insured as some of the companies organized upon the other plan, it faithfully fulfils every letter of the plain business contract which it makes with its customers. It has low rates for a certain fixed return; there are no possible uncertainties of notes or dividends, and no complications or disappointments at the death of the insured. The simplicity of the system, and the certainty of the position occupied, are recommendations too strong to be overlooked.

We have spoken of the large business already done by this company. It has also met with large losses by death of the insured, but these losses have been of such a character and so promptly adjusted, that they have strengthened the company, where the circumstances were known. Rev. Lambert S. Fine, a clergyman of Troy, Bradford Co. Pa., paid $100 25 on December 1st, 1866, for a $5,000 policy. He died March 5th, 1869, and on the 1st of April the $5,000 (with no deduction for notes) was paid to his family, this being the only provision which the deceased had been able to make for their future comfort. Could any other possible investment of one hundred dollars on his part have proved so judicious or profitable? Another case was that of Louis H. Piaget, of Franklin, Pa, who insured for $1,000, and died six weeks thereafter. In this case the prompt payment of the $1,000 enabled the agent to effect $29,000 more of insurance upon the appreciative neighbors of the deceased.

Based upon ample financial capital —$1,000,000 paid up—conducted upon strict business principles, and managed by men of national reputation for honesty and sagacity, this company justly deserves the front rank it has taken in the insurance corps. The advertisement of the local agent for the National Life will be found in another column.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, May 14, 1869.

Talking of enterprising wonders reminds me that Ex-Governor Curtin, president of the East India n Telegraph Company, and A K McClure, its solicitor had interviews with the secretaries of state and navy, relative to the introduction of the telegraph into China, under the authority of a grant from the Chinese government when Burlingame was our minister there, to lay a cable between Canton and Shanghai, connecting the commercial cities of the Asiatic coast by telegraph. The company have 500 m cable ready of the 1000 miles required; and the rest is promised during the summer. The protection of our navy is requested, and such countenance by the consuls, &c., along the line, as may be consistent. This cable will, I believe, complete telegraphic communication pretty much, if not quite, around the world.

You have seen that army officers who have lately been crowded out of service by the consolidation of regiments, have been appointed Indian agents. At first this looks inconsistent with the simultaneous employment of Quakers, selected especially for their peculiar peace principles, in nominally the same office. But president Grant is right.

The Quakers diffuse their peace principles, and exert their humanizing influences to the utmost, in their official and personal intercourse with the Indians, and with the scarcely less savage frontiersmen—to whom, by the way, an Indian's life is no more sacred than that of a buffalo or a bear, and to whose aggressions many of the Indian outbreaks and atrocities are only natural sequences. The officers, under their military accountability, discharge their trust to the letter; and, at the same time, while carefully avoiding, on their own part, and preventing, on the part of others, all cause of hostilities, see to it, as practiced disciplinarians, that all the stipulations and regulations are observed.

If, now, the Indians and frontiersmen shall prove penetrable by the principles of peace and good will, the Quaker element is the one that will prevail, and may be the only one of which they need have any practical knowledge. If in any degree otherwise, the military officers are on the ground to take note, with the precision of the profession, exactly what degree of the element of force is demanded in the premises, and to despatch to government, intelligently and technically, the necessary information and requisitions.

Our administration is too peace loving and economical to relish the telegraphic report, received here Wednesday, of the alliance of England, France and Spain, for offensive operations against us. The republican papers here discredit it. I do n't think Smalley, the Tribune's London man, would incur the expense of a cable despatch without being pretty sure.

Anderson's solace and Lorillard's century, ounce papers, tin foil at the news room.

MR. EDITOR—I notice in a somewhat lengthy ordinance in a late number of your paper, defining the duties of certain officers of the government. Will you oblige me by informing me what the duties of the city solicitor are? I am led to make the inquiry, because I notice a new instalment of more jobs on Erie street, and would like to know if the duties of the city solicitor permit him to stand idly by and suffer such things? NEMESIS.

We shall have to give the job of answering the above to somebody better posted.—ED.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Last fall my wife had the Liver Complaint so bad she was able to sit up but a few minutes at a time. I had a physician doctoring her for some time, but the medicine he gave her seemed to do her but little or no good. I was advised to get her a bottle of your Bitters, and let her try them, and see if they would help her. So I thought if one bottle would be good two would be better, and I got her two bottles, and when she had taken the last bottle she could do most of her house work. I got her one more which entirely cured her, and she looks the best I have seen her for four years. We recommended them to several of our neighbors who have used them with great success.

Lots For Sale.

That beautiful tract of land known as the

FAIR GROUND,

on the bluff west of Massillon and on the bank of the Tuscarawas river, together with joining lands has just been divided up into lots, which are recorded as the Riverside Addition to the town of Massillon.

The lots are of good size and will be sold at such easy terms of payment as to place a home within the reach of all. The beauty of the location is unsurpassed, and we believe it is a conceded fact that a location on the west bank of a running stream of water is always more healthy than one on the east bank.

It is apparent to all that the business and population of Massillon are very rapidly increasing; it is also apparent that public attention is directed to the west side of the river as the most desirable point for a home now in the market, or that probably ever will be in the market again. We think therefore that it is safe to predict that in a very few years this grand addition

RIVERSIDE,

Will be covered over with dwelling houses, which will be occupied by a large proportion of the busy citizens of the city of Massillon.

Every man who has a family or ever expects to have one ought to have home on his own right, then he will be independent, if not rich. A better opportunity will never again be offered of securing one so desirable, so cheap and so easily paid for.

Also a very desirable out lot, of about eight acres, adjoining Massillon, on the Canton road, will divide well into three or four pasture lots. Also some beautiful lots in the east part of the city.

The plots may be examined, and lots selected at my store. [292] P. C ALBRIGHT

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or amongst the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

CORNER STONE LAYING.—The corner stone of the Evangelical Lutheran church, of Massillon, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies customary in our church, on Sunday the 13th day of June next, in the afternoon, at one o'clock. A friendly invitation to this our festival is hereby extended to the whole Christian community, both German and English, and to all others who wish to attend and witness the above ceremony.

Rapid progress is making by the workmen in laying the foundation of the Evangelical Lutheran church, located in the north part of the city. In a very short time the bricklayers will be at work, and the design is to have the building under roof the present season, and as much more work as can be accomplished. The entire length of the church is 110 feet, and width 45 feet. It will be an ornament to that portion of the city in which it is situated, and is evidence of the progressive spirit and enterprise of the congregation. Elsewhere the reader will see the notice for the time at which the ceremonies of the corner stone of this new church are to take place.

Our railroad men are driving work rapidly, and the great probability is that we shall be in direct communication with Cleveland, possibly in sixty days. This idea has already had a tendency to stimulate business among us, and our people are waking up a spirit of enterprise which is manifesting itself in numerous ways.

Mr Burton's furnace, which has been quiet for some weeks in consequence of making necessary repairs, will soon resume active operations. But no matter how much light the two furnaces make it would look altogether better for the city to have Gas lights on the streets. This is not necessarily to be the case because smaller places than ours are thus favored, but because of the intrinsic advantages to our people which such an event will secure.

In accordance with a resolution passed by the city council, in March last property holders on both sides of Mill street, between Main and Jarvis streets, are required to pave and curb the sidewalks in front of their premises; also the owners of property between Main and Jarvis streets, on Erie street, east side, are required to pave and curb the sidewalks in front of their premises.

Mr Hewes the street commissioner, is making things move in his department. He seems to be constantly at work in one place or another, and devotes his entire attention to the duties of his office.

Some two or three months ago Andrew Ritter, an old man who had lived in West Massillon many years, was missing, and thus far no tidings of his whereabouts has reached us.

The opera block rooms are filling up. Already three of them are occupied, and this week Mr Stilgenbauer takes possession of another for his confectionaries, bread, pies, and a large variety of nice articles in his line.

An old gentleman named Kline, of Navarre, attempted to commit suicide one day last week, by hanging himself, but the rope broke and he failed in his purpose. Still bent on the work of self destruction his next effort was to cut his throat with a razor, but the instrument was too dull, so he was again disappointed. What were the troubles that caused this man to thus try to dispose of himself we have not been informed, but it must be something serious, or possibly his mind has been somewhat deranged.

The best we can say of the weather on last Saturday and Sunday is, that it was decidedly rough. Rain was needed—it came with thunder—hail also came with it, on both days, and though not falling in large pieces, yet there were a great many of them. It must have been severe on tender vegetables and young beans.

"BRING FLOWERS, FRESH FLOWERS."—Preparations are making very generally, all over the country, by our patriotic solders, and the people, to commemorate, in an appropriate manner, the deeds of those who lost their lives in defense of their country. The idea is a beautiful one, and as appropriate as beautiful. To cherish the memory of the fallen brave by strewing flowers over their graves is a duty the living owe for the sacrifices they made. Flowers, emblems of peace, purity and goodness, are expressive tokens that those who thus bestow these sweet memorials on the dead, fully appreciate the priceless value their noble examples conferred. And as our G A R friends have appointed the time for this annual ceremonial, we have no doubt but the citizens of this place and vicinity will cheerfully and liberally contribute in abundance those emblems of affection, which nature so liberally furnishes at this season.

Appropriate to this poetic memorial of the patriotic dead a friend has kindly furnished the following lines, the sentiments of which will elicit a response from every loyal heart:

Our Martyred Dead.

Tune: Scotts who have with Wallace bled.

DEDICATED TO POST 45, G. A. R., MASSILSON, O.

GREENLY let the laurels grow,
Where our martyrs, pillowed low,
Fell beneath the traitor's blow,
For the land we love:
Let our flag unfolded fly,
Where their hallow'd ashes lie,
And the marble point on high,
To their home above.

Monumental shafts are well,
Through the coming times to tell,
Where a nation's heroes fell,
Battling for the right:
But their proudest shaft shall be,
Nobler far than rock or tree,
Justice, Truth, and Liberty,
Crowned a nation's might.

Shed no tears o'er heroes gone,
Still their swords for right are drawn,
And their souls are marching on,
Vict'ry to renew:
Though unseen by human sight,
They who fall in freedom's fight,
Are but armed with greater might,
Conquest to pursue.

Let the velvet mosses creep;
Where their silent ashes sleep,
And their treasured mem'ries keep,
Ever fresh and green:
Plant the willow by the tomb,
Let the lilies breathe perfume,
And the twining roses bloom,
Where they walk unseen.

Where there is a will there is a way. The Wellsville Union of a recent date gives accounts of the trials and tribulations of some of the grogsellers of that place. The officers have been giving them a dose of legal suasion. Of course the people started the ball as the law requires they should do.

The Buckeye State of New Lisbon says, that C M Miller living near that place, recently sheared the wool from two Spanish bucks, one fleece of which weighed 16 and the other 20½ pounds. That is better business than selling them at five cents apiece to be slaughtered for their hides and tallow.

L Shaffer, Esq., of Canton announces that Vallandigham [THE] will be at that town on Saturday next, and he has consented to deliver a lecture in the opera house that evening. Although egregiously wrong in politics, we are certain that Mr V will have something to say in a literary way, which will be well worth hearing. Go and hear him.

We have been requested to state, that when the proper time arrives Mr J T Perdue, of Minerva, will have his name announced as a candidate for representative to the legislature.

GROSSKLAUS & Co have their gallery elegantly fitted up, and are prepared to fix the countenances of visitors in unfading colors. Their fame as artists is well established in this part of the country.

CHARLIE HARTEL, the Billiard Saloon man will soon remove from Richeimer's third story to a room in the opera building. The hall he vacates is expected to be occupied by Mr Ickes for singing classes.

When building it is necessary to obstruct streets for a while. The lime house in front of the opera block is to be removed, thus clearing the street.

The Sunday school of the Episcopal church is now preparing to have a pleasant time in the way of singing and other appropriate exercises on Sunday, June 13th.

The American House, at Salem, continues in the hands of Mr J Dellenbaugh, the proprietor, who keeps a model hotel, and is doing a prosperous, thriving business. Call on him when you go to Salem.

Those two new groceries on Main street (one owned by W E London, and the other by McDonald & Bruce) are selling vast quantities of goods. Their delivery wagons are constantly in motion, transferring loads of purchases to the residences of customers.

Last Thursday evening some of the members of the Good Templar lodge were absent. They missed a very interesting exercise in not hearing the drama of Rum's Maniac delivered by a gentleman from Cleveland.

Fifty engravings are given in the American Agriculturist for May 1st, which are not only pleasing to the eye, but many of them illustrate various devices and implements used in the house, in the garden, and on the farm. Among them are eight splendid illustrations of some of the recent and valuable kinds of poultry recently introduced. They are drawn from life, and are so perfect to a feather, as to make one fully acquainted with their several breeds shown. The calendar of work to be done, and the practical hints thereon, is a valuable and seasonable feature of the number before us. The Basket contains nearly a hundred, short, condensed, practical articles, including the usual scathing expose of humbugs and swindles, which has made the Agriculturist so useful to the country at large. Five leading breeds of improved swine are shown to the life, with descriptions of their peculiarities. Walks and talks upon the farm fill two pages with much information drawn from experience. Grafting is explained clearly in wood cuts and type. Practical gardening is treated in the same manner. The household columns are well filled with useful and interesting information and illustrations. Altogether, this journal is unequaled in the world for its great amount and variety of useful and pleasing information, and it should be in every house in the land. Terms, $1,50 per year, or four copies $5. Single numbers, post paid, 15 cents each. Orange Judd & Co., publishers, 245 Broadway, N Y.

DAYTON, O., May 16.—At one o' clock this morning Turner's splendid Opera House, in this city, took fire and was entirely destroyed. The building was occupied by McKee, Woodward & Weekly, wholesale grocers; Black & Fox, wholesale china and queensware; Grover & Baker's sewing machine company, and F Lange, restaurant and billiard rooms. Nothing was saved but a few sewing machines. The fine residences east of the opera house, on First street, of J Schwab, Joel Eastbrook and A Kuhn's were also destroyed. The fire communicated to the buildings south on Main street, owned by M Ohmer, which were entirely destroyed, including the large furniture establishment of M Ohmer, and the grocery of store of Sandmier & Bro.

Herman Sandmier, while endeavoring to save some of his goods, a portion of the wall fell and crushed him to the floor. His brother and several others endeavored to extricate him, but it was impossible. He lived in this condition for a while, when another crash came burying him in the ruins. His wife and family were present, but no human power could save him. The scene was heart-rending. The total loss is estimated at between $600,000 and $800,000, on which there is an insurance of about $100,000. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The opera house was one of the finest in the west, and is owned by J M and W M Turner. The whole loss will be about $250,000 over and above an insurance of $53,000.

Mrs Ingersoll, of East Cleveland, allowed her little son to ride to the city with a man who became intoxicated, drove into the river near the lake and drowned the boy and the horse. The drunken man managed to reach the shore.

The last named combat had much spirit and fun infused into it.

The bar room of the Astor House has just been newly painted and adorned in the highest style of art, and the parlors and sleeping rooms have been furnished with nearly 300 Bibles presented by the American Bible Society. A new stock of choice liquors has been laid in for summer use.

A GREAT REMEDY

Throat and Lung Diseases.

Pine Tree Tar Cordial.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree, obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safeguard and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the pine tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It strengthens the debilitated system.

It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflamation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure the following diseases, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.—

Consumption of the lungs, Cough, Sore Throat, and Breast, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, &c.

We are often asked why are not other remedies in the market for consumption, coughs, colds, and other pulmonary affections equal to Dr Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial. We answer—

1st. It cures not by stopping cough but by loosening and assisting nature to through off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

2d. Most throat and lung remedies are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for a while, but by their constringing effects the fibers becomes hardened and the unhealthy fluids coagulate and are retained in the system, causing disease almost beyond the control of our most eminent physicians.

3d. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial, with its assistants, are preferable, because they remove the cause of irritation of the mucuous membrane and bronchial tubes, assist the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purify the blood thus scientifically making the cure perfect.

Dr Wishart has on file at his office hundreds and thousands of certificates of cures from men and women of unquestionable character who were once given up to die, but through the providence of God were completely restored to health by the Pine Tree Tar Cordial. A physician in attendance who can be consulted in person or by mail, free of charge Price $1.50 per bottle, $11 per doz. Sent by express on receipt of price. HEMBOLD'S.

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

ERADICATES ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP, and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints the remnants of diseases hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by adults and children with perfect SAFETY.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

Do not Trifle With Danger.

A single spark may kindle a flame that will consume a city, and small ailments, neglected, may end in fatal disorders. Bearing this fact in mind let the first symptoms of debility or nervous prostration be met promptly by invigorating treatment. Foremost among the vegetable tonics of the age stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and whenever the vital powers seem to anguish, or there is any reason to suspect that the animal functions essential to the sustenation and purification of the body are imperfectly performed, this invaluable invigorant and antiseptic should at once be resorted to. Indigestion always produces weakness of the bodily powers. Sometimes it happens that the appetite demands more food than the stomach can digest: though not more, perhaps, than is required to keep up the full strength of the frame. The object, under such circumstances, is to increase the digestive capacity of the assimilating organ, so as to make it equal to the duty imposed upon it by the appetite, and capable of supplying the building material of the system as fast as it is required. This object is fully accomplished by the use of the bitters. They tone and gently stimulate the cellular membrane which secretes the gastric juice, and the result is that the solvent is mixed with the food in sufficient quantity to convert all its nourishing particles into pure and wholesome element. If, on the other hand, there is a deficiency of appetite, without any corresponding deficiency of digestive power, the effect of the tonic is to stimulate a desire for food. In nineteen cases out of twenty headache, nausea, nervousness, fainting-fits, spasms, and indeed, most of the casual aches and pains to which humanity is subject, proceed primarily from indigestion complicated with biliousness; and for both these complaints HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are recommended as a speedy and certain remedy. 305-4t

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint.

DYSPEPSIA,

Nervous Debility,

JAUNDICE,

Diseases of the Kidneys,

ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.

Yours truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,

States of Habitual Drunkards.

Illinois is in advance of most of her sister states in one important particular. Her legislature has passed an act whereby habitual drunkards are hereafter to be classed with idiots, insane and distracted persons. It is very stringent in many of its provisions. At the instance of the proper party, investigation is made into the condition of the alleged drunkard, and if it be shown from the testimony of acquaintances that his mind is so far impaired by the use of intoxicating liquors as to unfit him for the management or control of his private affairs, a conservator or trustee is appointed for that purpose, who has full power.

The overseers of the poor are to have the charge of the persons of the insane and habitual drunkards, and the county courts are to order warrants drawn upon the county treasury for their support. When a person has been declared insane or a drunkard, and a conservator appointed, he must, under this law, at least remain so for one year, as the conservator cannot be removed, except for misconduct, within that time.

This is a just and wise law. There is no more use why a man unfitted by the use of alcoholic drinks, should be permitted to squander his property, than if his incapacity arose from any other cause. Indeed, if discrimination be made at all, it should be against him who brings himself into such sad condition by his own voluntary acts. This is specially true in the case of the head of a family dependent on his means for support. How many instances are known to every one, where the family of a drunkard are not only denied the domestic and social privileges common to their neighbors, but compelled in helplessness to witness the disappearance in wanton waste of the property which constituted their only future dependence. It was entirely plain to them and their neighbors, that unless this process were stayed, all would soon be gone, and the household left to the cold charities constituting the legacy of the drunkards family; but their case was helpless. The law made provision for the families whose head should become unfitted for business by the act of others or by dispensation of Providence, but for the case of him who should "put to his mouth an enemy to steal away his brains," there has heretofore been no provision.

We are glad that progressive Illinois has taken this important step, and trust that Ohio will not be found far behind. She has "wives worse than widows and children more than orphans," many of whom by such means might be saved from the terrible condition of a drunkard's beggared family.

Another strong argument in favor of this law, is the fact that it stamps with a clearness the true character of the habitual drunkard. It brands him—not as an outcast to be disowned and despised, (God forbid!)—but as an imbecile, unfit to be the depositary of the full rights and powers of a citizen, as the subject of public guardianship and care. In a word, it gives him the place of the insane. We yield to none in pity for the poor victim of the drunkard's state. We have not a word of bitter reproach for one thus bound with chains others know not of; nor, would we deny him any privilege consistent with his own good or his fellows rights. He has enough to bear, without the unkindness of his neighbors or oppression of the law. But when his sad habits have so far impaired his faculties that he is no longer able properly to manage his affairs, it is not a wrong to, but a good to him, as well as to others, to provide him and his family the requisite aid in that behalf. It is no unkindness to the lunatic to give him a place suited to his condition, and where his condition may be improved. Nor is it more so thus to provide of the habitual drunkard.—Toledo Commercial.

Greek and Eastern Burials.

A Greek, settled in Smyrna, thus describes the mode of sepulcher followed by his own race, and some of the people among whom his lot was cast:

Our custom is to dress up the dead in his best clothes, and put on a new pair of shoes; the hands and feet are tied; the body must be facing the east, two long wax tapers standing up alight at the head and feet; and a small picture of the Holy Virgin placed on the chest. All relations must call at the house and remain in there and taste no food of any kind until the body be buried. A cup full of wine is brought into the room, and they wash the hands and the face of the corpse with the wine, and deposit the empty cup inside the waistcoat of the dead. As soon as the body is removed a stone is placed on the floor where the body was lying, and a small cup of wine, the stone and the cup remaining on the floor for three days and three nights, with a wax taper burning the whole time. When the body is lowered into the grave, the priest empties a large bottle full of wine. When a distinguished person dies, there is always a funeral oration recited at his tomb, a habit no doubt handed down to us from our ancestors. On their return from the cemetery, all the intimate friends and relatives return to the house and have a regular feast, consisting of all kinds of viands except flesh, with plenty of wine and raki. Three days afterward, we have a quantity of cakes blessed by the priest in church, and distributed to all the friends and acquaintances of the deceased. Exactly three years after burial we proceed with the priests and relatives to the grave, and disinter the dead; if the body be found perfectly decomposed, we collect the bones and transfer them to a monastery or church, for which we pay a fee of fifty piastres; should unfortunately the body be found in good preservation, through our sins or those of the deceased, we replace the remains in the grave and have prayers read in the church for the remission of our sins and the decay of the body of our relative. Our bishops are buried in a sitting posture, in an easy chair, and with a wax taper burning; if at the end of the three years, on opening the tomb, the taper be found still burning, it is considered an infallible proof that the holy father has become a saint. When a Turk is buried, the priest, or hozza, puts in the grave a key and a copper coin. The key is for the purpose of opening the door of Paradise, and the coin for giving bugshish to the porter. The Christians in Turkey believe that three days after a Turk has been buried he becomes a dog, and walks out of his tomb; while they maintain that when a poor Jew is lowered into his grave, the earth throws up the corpse seven times, unwilling to receive in her bowels the body of such a wicked unbeliever; but that the seventh time, the body is deposited again, and a large stone laid on the tomb. This is believed by the uneducated portion of my co-religionists, who also believe that that every Easter the Jews steal a Christian boy, and make use of his blood for seasoning their unleavened bread.—Cornhill Magazine.

State Treasurer.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—The time is drawing near when the republican citizens of Ohio will be called upon to designate the persons to whom is to be entrusted the responsibility of looking after the common interests of the state. Among other places to be supplied is that of state treasurer. The present incumbent has already held that position two terms, which is as long as has been usual under our present constitution. Without uttering a word, or suggesting a thought, prejudicial to the private or official character of Mr. Warner, there can be no impropriety in proposing the name of another equally worthy citizen for the place and assigning reasons for our preference.

The name of Dr. George W. Roby, of Ross county, will be presented to the convention for the office of state treasurer, by his friends of southern Ohio. The offices of lieutenant governor, auditor, secretary, treasurer, and comptroller are now all filled by citizens of the northern portion of the state, and sound policy, no less than evenhanded justice, requires an equitable distribution. Dr. Roby was many years a resident of Ross county; was Senator from Ross and Highland in the years 1862-3; and filled the office of provost marshal in the latter years of the rebellion. He is a man of unimpeachable character, extensively known and highly esteemed. He is interested and largely identified with the welfare of the state, and his integrity and business character are of the first order. His acquaintances will take both pride and pleasure in advancing his nomination and securing his election.

Sec. 6. That the street commissioner or other proper authority on the payment to the city treasurer of all moneys collected under and by virtue of the provisions of the preceding section, shall take duplicate receipts therefore, which receipts shall specify the name of the person from whom said money shall have been collected, and the number of the district in which he shall reside; one of which receipts he shall forthwith deposit with the city clerk who shall charge the amount thereof to the treasurer, and report the same to the city council at the next succeeding meeting, and the city treasurer shall credit the amount so received to the road account of said city.

Sec. 7. That it shall be the duty of the street commissioner or other proper authority, acting under and by the authority of the city council, to order out every such person resident as aforesaid, between the first day of April and the first day of September or November, as the city council may direct and designate, to do and perform the work aforesaid on the streets and alleys and roads and highways within his district; and if any person being personally warned by the street commissioner, or by leaving a written notice at his usual place of abode, shall refuse or neglect, having had at least two days notice, to attend by himself or substitute, to the acceptance of the street commissioner or other proper authority, or having attended shall refuse to obey the directions and orders of the street commissioner or other proper authority as aforesaid, or shall spend the time in idleness and inattention to the duties assigned to him; every such delinquent shall forfeit and pay the sum of one dollar for every such offense, and shall further be liable as in all cases of non attendance to the amount allowed for 2 day's work to be recovered by action before the mayor, acting mayor of the city, or other competent authority, in the name of the city of Massillon or the road district in which said delinquent may reside, and the money so collected shall be paid to the city treasurer, and duplicate receipts taken therefor as provided in section five. Provided that no person shall be released from labor on the public highway or streets and alleys of said city, in the proper district, by reason of the neglect of the street commissioner or other person properly authorized to order such persons out on or before the first day of September or November as herein before provided.

Sec. 8. That in case any person shall remove from one district to another, who has prior to such removal performed the whole or any part of the labor aforesaid, or in any other way has paid the whole or any part of the amount aforesaid in lieu of such labor, and shall produce a certificate of the same from the proper authority of the proper district, such certificate shall be a complete discharge for the amount therein specified.
